विघ्नों से जब जाना हार

विघ्नों से जब जाना हार
जग दे हर पल दुत्कार
कालिमा पूर्ण हो आकाश
हो किसी साथी की आस

आना तब तुम मेरे द्वार

जब निर्जन हो जीने की आस
टूटे विश्वास प्रत्येक साँस
प्रेम पथ जब हो एकाकी

रूठा हो जीवन का साकी

आना तब तुम मेरे द्वार

मंजिल हो जाए जब धूमिल
दिखे बस मृगतृष्णा झिलमिल
विहवल हो जाए अंतरमन
नीरस लगे उन्मादी यौवन

आना तब तुम मेरे द्वार

गीतोपदेश

“हे नारायण! ये नारी तेरी है ये नर तेरे हैं,
मैं क्षीण हुआ, दुशासन जीत रहा ये अवगुण मेरे हैं।
हो सूर्यपुत्र या गंगापुत्र, इनके बाणों से ये पार्थ नहीं विचलित होगा
पर कुलद्रोही, कुलनाशी का ये पाप नहीं मुझसे होगा”

कुलद्रोही क्यूँ? कुलश्रेष्ठ बन!
पर ला संयम मैं पहले ये दुर्बल मन।
ये खड़े सामने न द्रोण गुरु, न गंगा पुत्र न कोई अपने तेरे हैं
जिन करो से बाण चले, रणभूमि पे जो धड़ भी गिरे, वे सब भी मेरे हैं

पार्थ, न तू अर्जुन पहला, न मैं अंतिम कान्हा हूँ
मैं ही जीवन पर्याय सभी का, मैं ही काल समाना हूँ।
जब-जब क्षितिज पर मेघ लहू के छाते हैं,
हर युग को तरने नर-नारायण आते हैं।

पाप-पुण्य का त्याग दे चिन्तन,
समर मैं अब द्रुण हो जा,
कण-कण को अब रण कर दे, हे अर्जुन,,,,,
तू खुद ही अब रण हो जा!

From Ustaads to Family: Lessons Beyond the PT Ground

Every morning, when we fall in outside the IPS Mess at 5:30 a.m., none of us is fully awake, and all of us are still negotiating with sleep. And yet, there we see our Ustaads, with a smile, waiting for us to finish our bananas. This is perhaps our first lesson from them — discipline and punctuality.

Does one of us take on the collective responsibility of waking all of us up?

YES! Do we hate that person? Also yes.

When we first came to NPA, during the first week of PT, our Ustaads seemed a bit like Dangal's Hanikarak Babu to all of us — strict, uncompromising and intimidating. But within a couple of weeks, that perception changed completely. From Abhaya Sir's "Haan ji, haan ji, kaisa hai ji?" to Muthu Sir's "Hum sab parivaar hai ji!", NPA slowly started to feel like home.

Our Ustaads are also A1 motivators — something much needed to survive NPA. "Good! Shabash! Excellent hai ji! Kitna best hai! Hum karenge. Only 180 push-ups!" "Chest up! Knee tight! Body weight front! Mid-foot landing!" — these are a few legendary words we have all heard from our Ustaads. This shows how motivation isn't always intrinsic. Sometimes, we all need a little — actually, a lot of — pushing from our Ustaads.

Now that we are done with running, let's move to the Takeshi's Castle of NPA — the BOAC.

Did we take a hundred attempts at the Tarzan swing?

Yes.

But did our Ustaads lose their patience?

Not even a single bit.

Our Ustaads' constant yelling of "Please jump! Please jump!" ensured that we all learnt the lesson that repetition sometimes makes things easier. What seems impossible on the first attempt becomes achievable when someone patiently tells you to try again — and again — and again.

They are also Ustaads at keeping us all accountable. A one-kilogram shift in weight means an explanation for the number of egg puffs consumed. And so is the life lesson that eating snacks will, unfortunately, not help us pass the POP!

All this is fine, but our Ustaads also become truly Hanikarak when it comes to discipline. Because, as they say, "Kaam mein 19/20 chalega, lekin discipline mein 21 hona chahiye."

With our Ustaads, we learn lessons in punctuality and, more importantly, that actions have consequences. They have taught us that discipline is not simply about following instructions; it is about developing the habits and standards that define an officer.

But beyond the runs, push-ups, Tarzan swings, weight checks and the constant motivation, our Ustaads are one of the main pillars on which the NPA stands. They have shaped our understanding of professional ethics, emotional intelligence and leadership. They are always there to protect us, guide us and push us to become better versions of ourselves.

They are truly our family away from home. Beneath the shouting, corrections and discipline, they are quietly looking after us, believing in us and becoming our family.

NPA has given us many things — friendships, memories, bruises, sore muscles, endless photographs and probably an entirely new relationship with bananas! But one of its greatest gifts has been the people who have walked with us through this journey.

Our Ustaads are our family. And anything that hurts them hurts us too. It breaks us. But whenever things get difficult, we will remember what our beloved Prashant Sir taught us:

"Beltdhari kabhi haar nahi maanta."

So, with all the lessons, laughter, love and memories they have given us —

"Ye article samapt hua."
